

Time to Read by The Beatles' "Let it Be"

Lyrics by Jeff Wallowitz

Sung by Connor Wallowitz

When I was just five and had no troubles
Mom and dad would come to me
Came into my bedroom, Time to read
And just before the darkness
Snuggled in right next to me
Books had filled my bedroom, Time to read
Time to read, time to read, time to read, time to read
Books had filled my bedroom, time to read
And now that I have grown much older
Reading is still fun for me
I'll go and grab Spinelli, time to read
Wringer, Crash and Stargirl
I'm in a trance and feel so free
I live at the library, time to read
Time to read, time to read, time to read, time to read
Yeah reading is the answer time to read
Time to read, time to read, time to read, time to read

Books still fill my bedroom, time to read

Time to read, time to read, ah time to read, yeah time to read

Books should fill your bedroom, time to read

And on a night that's cloudy

With a night light that is shined on me

Shine until tomorrow, while I read

I wake up to the sound of breakfast

Mom and dad are proud of me

Cause I'm so full of wisdom, time to read

Yeah time to read, time to read, time to read, yeah time to read

Reading is the answer, time to read

Time to read, time to read, time to read, yeah time to read

I'm so full of wisdom, time to read
